The latest in lighting: Smart converters and sensors

LEARN MORE

Smart lighting lets you do more with less.

They are designed to be compatible in virtually any country.

Easy to install and with a global reach, they optimise energy consumption with a high power factor.

Smart Global Converters:

Efficiency and International Compatibility

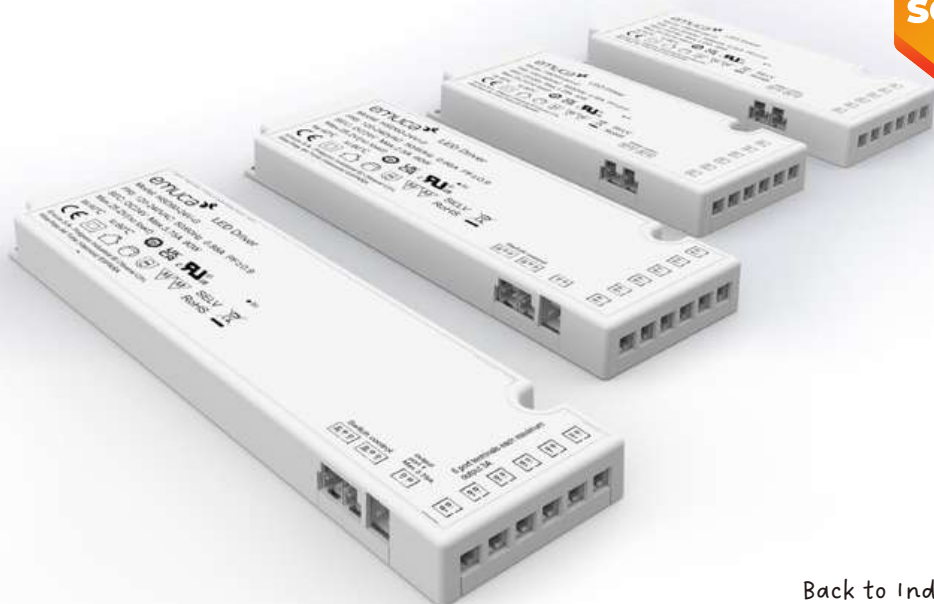

- With input voltage from 110VAC to 240VAC.
- Available in two output voltages: 12VDC and 24VDC.
- Valid for virtually any country in the world.
- UL, CE and TUV certified.
- "Smart" connection with control port and outputs integrated into the converter itself.

They are designed to adapt to input voltages of 120-240V, offering compatibility in virtually any country.

Available in two output versions, 12V DC and 24V DC, they ensure versatility for different power requirements. With UL, CE, UKCA and CB (TÜV) certifications, these converters comply with international safety and quality standards. In addition, they include a control port and integrated Miniled outputs, simplifying the installation process and ensuring optimal performance for global applications.

LIGHTING

Smart Sensors

For those who love detail, Emuca's motion, touch and proximity sensors offer total control over lighting.

These are devices designed to control the on and off of 12V or 24V DC LED lights. Various mounting options: surface or recessed, single or double switched, and even wireless.

With a simple touch or a gesture of your hand, you can turn the light on and off, and even adjust its intensity by holding your finger over the sensor.

CURRENT EVENTS

Adversity will make us stronger

On October 29th, our headquarters in Valencia, Spain, suffered severe flooding that caused devastation in several towns in the region. We would like to express our sincere condolences to the victims and their families in this difficult time. Fortunately, thanks to preventive measures, our team is all well, which gives us strength to continue forward.

Despite the magnitude of the damage, good news is coming. The clean-up work at Emuca Spain is coming to an end, thanks to the tireless effort and dedication of our entire team. 🧡

The accumulated mud has been removed and we are finalising the details to resume our operations as normal. Very soon we will be able to process and ship orders again with the quality and speed that characterises us. 🚚✈️

We deeply appreciate the support and understanding of all our customers and partners in this unexpected situation. We will continue to keep you informed and, as always, we are at your disposal for any questions.

Thank you for always being with us!
